

PARTICIPANTS NEEDED

Autistic Stimming Study

Who We Are

RADAR is a participatory research project at the University of Minnesota. This means we're a group of autistic researchers from academic and non-academic backgrounds.

Learn more about RADAR

<https://innovation.umn.edu/radar>

What We're Studying

- We're interested in autistic perceptions and experiences of stimming, including how stimming relates to identity, emotion, and social relationships.
- The study includes a brief online questionnaire with optional follow-up interviews via Zoom.

Inclusion Criteria

- 18+
- ASD diagnosis or self-identify as autistic
- Ability to provide responses to the survey, with or without help; parents/guardians/support people, please do not fill this out on behalf of someone else

Compensation

$5 gift card for completing the survey.

Additional $10 for completing follow-up interview.

Take the Survey

<https://redcap.link/radar-stimming-survey>